CPOC and CPOC Foundation are excited to announce the Call for Presentations for our upcoming statewide conference Supporting Excellence in California Probation: Strategies for Success! This transformative training event will help educate and elevate probation professionals throughout California and is designed to equip attendees with the knowledge, skills, and tools necessary to continue to enhance probation work in California.

We invite probation professionals, academics, stakeholders, and practitioners to submit presentation proposals under the following subject areas:

Adult Probation and Reentry Strategies: Programs that help enhance probation work. Proven, promising, and innovative programs, job training, victim services and educational pathways that help with successful community reintegration and recidivism reductions.

Juvenile Justice Continuum: Proven and promising approaches in the juvenile continuum including prevention, intervention, diversion or deflection. Focus on education, community supervision and services, community engagement and partnerships, and successful reentry.

Juvenile Institutions: Responses to current challenges and opportunities in managing juvenile institutions, SB 823 implementation, educational and vocational programming, positive youth development, staffing approaches, and reentry planning.

Foster Care: Efforts to enhance services, treatment and residential care. Effective strategies to improve outcomes for foster care youth involved in the justice system with a focus on child and family teaming, wraparound, Family First Prevention Services Act, resource family recruitment and retention efforts, partnerships with STRTPs and AB 12 programs.

Pretrial: Effective pretrial programs aimed at supporting the court decision making process, community monitoring and enhancing return to court.

Wellness: The physical and mental well-being of probation professionals, addressing stress management, self-care, and overall health.

Evidence-Based, Promising and Innovative Practices: Evidence-based programs and promising practices that have demonstrated positive results in probation and reentry efforts. New and innovative approaches being used or researched.

Technology, Data and Fiscal Analytics: Role of technology and data analytics in improving the probation profession. Strategies for effective fiscal management in probation departments and funding opportunities for innovative programs.

Submission Guidelines:

- Presentation proposals should be submitted online by December 5, 2023.
- Each proposal should include a title, a brief 25–35-word synopsis of the session, a 250-word abstract, a brief bio of the presenter(s) in paragraph format, and the preferred session format (lecture, panel, workshop, or interactive discussion).
- Presentations should be 90 minutes in duration, including time for Q&A.
- Panel sessions are limited to 4 presenters. A bio is required for all proposed panelists.
